

| No.           | NGR 848331 |                | Materialflint |                | Date of find |          | NFRConditioncomplete |
|---------------|----------------|----------------|-------------------|----------------|--------------|----------|------------------------------|
| WEIGHT75  | POLEDWID       | BLATANG        | GRIFROPL          | GRIFROBY       | GRIFROBL     | POLFROBY | POLFROBL                     |
| CORFROPL0 | CORFROBY0  | CORBAPL0   | CORBABY0      | MAXTHICK16 | POLTHICK     | BLATHICK | LEFTHICK                     |
| RITHICK       | TOPTHICK       | BOTTHICK       | MAXLENG           | POLENG         | BLALENG      | MAXWID   | POLWID                       |
| BLAWID        | LENGMAXT       | LENGMAXW       | GRIPOLED          | LONPOLED       | AREAPOLL     | AREABODY | AREABLAL                     |
| AREABLAR      | GRINSIDE75 | LONGSIDE90 | LEFEDWID1     |                |              |          |                              |
|               |                |                |                   |                |              |          |                              |

Find place

|                  |  |              |
|------------------|--|--------------|
| CollectionBM | LabelsNEAR 250LIPHOOKNEW FOREST [SE]C.H.R. [?]LIPHOOKBroken Butt [?] | Date 1.11.78 |
|------------------|--|--------------|

Comments

1. ground shows small scars on both faces. Poll seems to have been broken in antiquity. On back face, ground surface around poll has been removed by moderate scars, & a fairly large scar extends from right side below poll on front face down towards the centre. The break scar which forms the present poll edge, has plunged over onto the front face, & is ground in where it turns.