1. blade edge moderately sharp + fresh.
 2. CORTEX on back face is fully ground. Could perhaps be a 'cherty' inclusion rather than outer crust.
 3. 'found lying close together on a heap of earth recently moved by a mechanical excavator, during the construction of the School for Spastic Children.' Bull. Board of Celtic Studies 17, 1958, 194-5. Plate 1.1 shows back face of both celts (other = 50137).
